Professional Profile

I am an ambitious individual who always strives to work hard and complete tasks to the best of my ability. I am currently studying a BSc in Ai and Robotics at Edge Hill university. I have developed strong skills from both individual tasks and working within a team becoming well versed in the Computer Science industry. Through my education I have developed Proficient communication and pastoral skills alongside the academic skills I continue to develop throughout my degree.

In my spare time I have completed volunteer roles and community support which has allowed me to gain confidence in working well with members of the public. Furthermore, this work has allowed me to gain skills such as customer facing, resilience in high pressure situations alongside more specific skills such as cash handling and food service. I enjoy activities at home such as gaming and reading, while also being a part of university societies and teams such as the darts society to allow me to relieve stress while completing my degree.
